TUESDAY. - AUGUST 12, 1856.

The organ has a long article, striving to show Mr. Buchanau unsound on the slavery question. If he con d make anything by an honest expase, it would be all right; but it is surprising that e is not ashemed to put forward such stuff as he fishes up on this subject. The effort of the South, In 1830, was to defeat the Wilmot Proviso, and that was the point aimed at by her friends North. The whole South wanted the line of thirty-six thirty extended to the Pacific. All the South appre monded that it would be impossible to get a just and constitutional settlement of the difficulty. Anything fair er tolerable would be borne; but not a formul and defiant exclusion, by a hostile sectional majority, from every foot of territory Mr. Buchanan was fir accepting the proposition of the South, to extend the line of thirty-six thirty to the Pacific. The North would not agree to tha' proposition. There was but one other alternative. and that was to resist the anti-clavery proviso, and organize the territories, leaving the question of slavery to the people of the territories themselves. The South and her friends could take that, or an absolute exclusion from every foot of erritory belonging to the United States.

The advocates of this mode of settlement urger that Congress had no power to legislate upon slavery in the territories; either to establish or exclude it; that it was wrong to exercise such a wer, if it existed; as every people ought to have the right to settle their own institutions their own way: that as for the territory generally, slavery would not go to it, owing to the fact that the soil, climate, and productions, were not adapted to slave labor. This last reason was urged by Clay, Webster, and others, again and again, in order to incline the Northern men to desist from their purpose of urging the Wilmot Proviso; and no man jumped higher, squatted lower, or squalled louder, in admiration of the position of Clay and Webster, in those days, than the editor of the Journal. Now he has the audici us dishonesty to publish the hope he may do it. We have not the least insame sentiment from Buchanas, to prove that he terest in depreciating his strength there. We is not to be trusted !!

We have shown before, how the editor of the Journal stood in this great controversy. If he was n t at heart for the Wilmot Proviso, he weete exactly like one that was; and therefore he is a friends in the whole controversy.

legislation. This was squatter severeign'y-that could not be protected in the Territory.

Thus were the compromise bills passed; and after the work was done, the editor of the Journal He praised everybody that did is; even the Loco- leave to not as Prime Minister to that personage. focos; but claimed all the credit for his party, as Mr. Clay had advocated and voted for these measures. Such rapturous yells as he raised over equatter sovereignty at that day, have seldom been heard. All who are now Know-Nothings in this State joined in the song of triumph over these squatter sovereignty bills.

There is a questlon, however, reserved. Whilst Congress has given to the Territorial legislature the power to act on all rightful subjects of legislation, the South contend that the constitution protects their property in slaves in any Territory belonging to the United States; and, that, therefore neither Congress nor the Territorial legislatures can abolish slavery in the Territories.

Thore is a difference of opinion on this subject, amongst the friends of the compromise measures of 1850, and the Nebraska-Kansas bill of 1854. It iavolves a question which the Sapreme Court only can settle; for it is judicial, and not political. As the matter stands, Congress gave all the power of legislation it could confer to the Territorial legislatures in 1850 and 1854, on the subject of slavery. and the people North and South approved the acts of 1850, and will approve the act of 1854, on the same principle.

And let us see if any sane man South will object on any view of the subject. Suppose the of cellapse, but we don't see any indications of ger the Union. But can they forget that our Supreme Court should decida that the Southern of ce'lapse, but we don't see any Indications of view of the matter is right, and that the federal the "re-action" he speaks of. Fillmore stands constitution protects the right of the master to his about as much chance to get a free State, as Freproperty in slaves in all the Territory. Then the mont does one of the Southern States; while in Territorial legislatures can't take that right away; the South there are not more than two or three and all the power Congress could give does no States in which he will make a respectable race,

But suppose that slavery is a creation of munieipal law, and does not exist where not established and its readers bet their thousands upon it. He on laughing and singing, like the traveler in the by competent legislative anthority. Then whether and its readers bet their thousands upon it. He slavery shell exist in a Territory or not, must be got four States. decided by Congress or the people of the Terri tory. Which will the South leave it to? Will Fillmore's prospects, but he can't laduce his party Father of his Country, and dictate the grave and she leave it to Congress or to the people of a Ter- to bet upon his prophecies and calculations. The grand waining of the Parewell Address. ritory? If she leave it to the former, sha knows, beforehand, slavery will not be established.

that body over the subject, and the members North | toral votes that Fillmore will receive. would not do it, of course. If on this supposition slavery ever exists in a Territory, when not catabmain point. Let them find that he has plenty of Marshall ought to have known better than to have made this charge away from home, on such authority. The melancholy failures of the Journal, in its rookless charges upon l'uchanan, have axcited the derision of all parties. Mr. Letcher had some dreadful revelation to make, it will be remembered, that had not soon the light; and Bushanan was called upon to unsoil the lips of Mr. Leicher, accompanied with the foulest denunciations. It turned out, however, that Leicher had nothing to say, and the editor of the Journal had to confess it. But that letter to Mr. Clay-it was still in reserve; a very dreadful thing was that letter. Just let Mr. Buchenan dare allow that letter to come out. Well, where is the 'o'ter ? The editor has ad mirted that the letter can't be found. It is not where he thought it was. Here were two loud and distressing shricks of well. They go for Fil mere; therefore, he is now certain of carry-Hards, who were exceedingly anxious to beat both the other parties, they failed. Ulman got about one hundred and twenty or thirty thousand votes. These Hards will vote for Buchanan, and Fillmore will only get what is left of Uiman's vote. The Seward party has gained some a rength since that time; but the Know-Nothing party has gained nothing. It has last on both sides. The party in Now York has followed the usual habit of the brethren. It has split to pieces on the elavery And yet, invited to share in your counsels, an questi n; a large portion, perhaps a majority, gong off to Fremont, as George Law can testify. the other hand, the Harls, that voted with them, cannot be claimed now on that side.

Another circumstance tending to strengthen the belief that the premises were purposely set on fire, is the fact that not long ago, the chief fire of fire company No. 12, which is located near the burnt district, and inspect the apparatus belonging to that company. It was found that the house had been entered by some malicious wretch and that nearly every section of hose in the bouse was cut one. There is no other fire engine location. was ent open. There is no other fire engine cated near this poin; and the above fact would seem to indicate a premoditated design to kindle a fire somewhere in the neighborhood, wails al the means of quenching it should be at such a distance as to be unavailable until a general conlagration should become inevitable. Fortunately the damage done to the hose was discovered and remedied in time; but this did not prevent one o the most destructive fires which ever occurred in Phicago.
